Within the Ruins

Not for nothing, but you'd give it all. My heart is blackened with your lies. Bury me in an unmarked grave. You have destroyed everything. Living in the past is now. Some things will never change. You wore out your welcome. You've overstayed your time. So get yourself together. Some things will never change. So let's destroy. Fucking destroy. Your fucking life. No one wants to see the fucking truth. I didn't take part in the demise of thousands. I promise you'll get yours. Sooner or later. I promise. Sooner or later. Judgment will be paid. The price will be paid. Our hearts could never weather the storm. Who were we kidding. How long can I go before I take myself out. How long can I go. Living in the past is now. Some things will never change. You wore out your welcome. You've overstayed your time. Get yourself together. Throw me in an unmarked grave
