True Metal

Why do you ask us if we were false or true Can't you just shut your fucking mouth Why do you look at us like we were shit Are you just envious We just want to live our life We don't care what you say

We play more metal than the most people can take Bad reviews and fat ass critics we don't care We play metal for all metal heads And not for rotten poser rats

True metal the sound of our hearts We will never be apart The sense of our lives Deceivers our victory is your doom

Don't try to stop 'cause we are too strong The wall on which you'll be crushed The day we meet you will never forget Your untrue poser rats We are not born to serve We are born to rule

We play metal loud and proud Smashing enemies to the ground Born to play the metal sound By true metal we are bound We don't care what you say Hear what we play Wizard
