

First Light

Wodensthroné

First light caresses the sky
I am the creator
"In biting flame and burning ice it shall begin again"

Whisper to me the name of the wind be one with me transcend the self and become the whole

Let us hear the song of the ocean and feel the weight of the sky
The heart opens as the eye closes Pluck out and relinquish the 'I'

Ancestral warnings etched into our souls steer us from the darkness that lies within us all

The serpent slumbers only lightly
Though he with one eye keeps vigil
Upon his throne once more
As it was, so it shall be again

The serpent slumbers only lightly
Though he with one eye keeps vigil
Upon his throne once more
As it was, so it is again