Windows

How can we bridge the path from dark to light If we live like the rest of them? Can we portray his love? We are the Window What we do is for you Can we be your hands? Burn these walls to the ground!

Let your light shine through this veil of darkness Burn these walls!

Let your light shine through Cause we are the Window We must set our own hearts Straight to lead the weak We give ourselves to you oh Father To see the truth within in your hands Oh God take it all Fill my lungs Give me life We were hollow men We were hollow men Woe, Is Me
