Enter the night as the day fades away Feel it's dark embrace Your all alone except a million stars in space As you walk lost and astray The man in the moon stares with a ghastly grin With cold eyes that cannot see Is it the echo of your footsteps that you hear Or is it someone there? Shadows at night Dance the walls when your out of sight Creep up from behind When you walk in the moonlight I'm the one in from behind I'm your shadow in the night I am the dark side of you Where you are I am too Wherever you go I follow you When you walk in the pale moonlight
