

See Ya Never

Write This Down

I know that we can make it
Stay close until the end
Because we live it up like outlaws
Can't stop us till the end.
It's a good life living on the road
I'm staying young while I'm growing old
Hiding in plain sight all of the reasons why I can't go home
These are the long nights, awake until breakfast
Meet all the locals, they gave us an invite
To call this city ours, and come back anytime
It's a good life living on the road
Our die hard looks and vagrant souls
Breaking the patterns, killing the routines that I find at home
These are the highlights
Casinos in Reno
Surfing in Long beach
Castles and basements
It's everything to us to never have enough.
And all my crusading is nothing but shading,
For what really counts, for what really counts.