

Something You Can't Live Without

Wynonna Judd

I hear you talking, baby, tell me something I don't know
I always knew that someday you'd come walking through my door
And now you're telling me that it was meant to be
That every time you leave and go away, it drives you crazy

That's how it's supposed to be, like something's missing
Like it's hard for you to breathe without my kisses, baby
Everything you need, or ever think about
Baby, I was born to be something you can't live without

You've always seen yourself blowing down some open road
Nothing can slow you down, you're always in complete control
So baby, don't you change, I want you hard to take
I want you all about me, strong and steady, always ready

That's how it's supposed to be, like something's missing
Like it's hard for you to breathe without my kisses, baby
Everything you need, or ever think about
Baby, I was born to be something you can't live without

It's like something 'bout your world ain't going right
And everything about it turns your colors straight to black and white

That's how it's supposed to be, like something's missing
Like it's hard for you to breathe without my kisses, baby
Everything you need, or ever think about
Baby, I was born to be something you can't live without
How it's supposed to be, like something's missing
Like it's hard for you to breathe without my kisses, baby
Everything you need, or ever think about
Baby, I was born to be something you can't live without
