

You have just knelt before
The altar waiting for, for your sentence
The jury won't rid you of guilt
You are foul and shameful
They'll bring you down and take all you ever loved
You can't avenge'em all but you'll pay for your pain

They're only losers in my eyes, tell me why
They're only losers in my eyes, losers in my eyes

Times are hard, take a look around
You feel the same, you can feel it too
You swore you won't believe
It's payment for your faith, your confidence
Don't waste your breath, you are an important part
Butterfly wings will help you go up and finish all

You are someone else and you have no mercy
You are like a stone
Revenge keeps you alive, looking like a bum
But you are not alone
But you are not alone

Cold sweat, warm fire
That's my hope, desire

Upon the wings of shimmering moonbeams
I packed my poet's dreams for you
I'm wearing my strife, my courage, my loss for you

They're only losers in my eyes, losers in my eyes

You are someone else and you have no mercy
You are like a stone
Revenge keeps you alive, looking like a bum
But you are not alone
But you are not alone
