

Beautiful Day

X-Perience

It's years since you've been leaving
The places we were born
I wake up I am receiving
A sign of your return

You gave me one good reason
To wait until you come
I'm waiting and I'm dreaming
We're drowning in the sun

A beautiful day and a beautiful night
You drive me crazy when you hold me tight

I live my life so slow and
I'll walk while you will run
I slam the door behind me
The same way as you've done

The flowers you've planted
Are growing in the light
They're waiting in the backyard
I visit every night

The roads I walked were winding
Until you crossed my way
You gotta get back sometimes
And stay another day

You lead me to the backyard
To hold my body tight
I guess you'll be my lifeguard
You're always by my side
