Blood on My Hands

Silver stars in my black night Cold as ice but beautiful Wandering through broken shadows The river of life is all filled with sins The water I drink is the blood on my hands

No-one sees how I'm burning No-one feels this yearning So come taste this black poison - You never reach this heart And forgive my obsession - Something tears me apart From myself

Silver stars in my black night Cold as ice but beautiful Wandering through broken shadows The river of life is all filled with sins The water I drink is the blood on my hands

Waiting for my damnation - your prosecutor's here In my own accusation - you can't run from yourself Oh we're living these lies all alone So come on and throw the stone

Silver stars in my black night Cold as ice but beautiful Wandering through broken shadows The river of life is all filled with sins The water I drink is the blood on my hands

Pray to the gods I have sold in this game of live and let die Pray for my soul in this world to deliver me from my sins Pray...

All that's been and all I see now Only a ghost of what I called...

Silver stars in my black night Cold as ice but beautiful Wandering through broken shadows The river of life is all filled with sins The water I drink is the blood on my hands
