

Last Free Place

Xavier Baumaxa

The last free place
in this world is your head no one can see the very thoughts that you have

There's no love
only fear in our brains that we give our last secrets to love away

My old friend
there've been the days when we could laugh but now there's a time when those days are gone away and if you fail

to find the words, please find the strength the bullet be the very end of our hopeless days
