Food in the Belly

Xavier Rudd

So go but be kind you have luck on your side born into a family with food in their bellies and a car for them to drive People sleeping on the concrete still smile behind their signs So go now be happy and be free you, you have so much time

If you go chances are you'll come again if you come chances are you'll go so be mellow let it flow let it bend I'll see you somewhere at the end

So go but be kind you have luck on your side born into a family with food in their bellies and a car for them to drive People sleeping on the concrete still smile behind their signs So go now be happy and be free you, you have so much time

If you go chances are you'll come again if you come chances are you'll go so be mellow let it flow let it bend I'll see you somewhere at the end

So go but be kind you have love, love on your side born into a family with food in their bellies and a car for them to drive People sleeping on the concrete still smile behind their signs so go now be happy and be free you, you have so much time

So go, go but be kind
