The Fox & the Rabbit

I like people who are wrong Could you then feel like I do Collossus bestrides the haves and have nots Go softly this is being sung for you

Wake up wake up The wish you made is plucked Go out get up You've done enough enough Wake up wake up To take the time to cuss Go out get up You've seen enough enough

Do you think that you deserve it?

I am waiting here for you Looking out across the brooke My hands resting on my chest But still I stare into the night

Wake up wake up The wish you made is plucked Go out get up You've done enough enough Wake up wake up To take the time to cuss Go out get up You've seen enough enough

When the fox hears the rabbit cry He comes running but not to help
