

Our Scars

XP8

She takes me down into her world
She takes my breath, my scary girl
She licks me up and spits me out
She takes it all, except my doubt
She saw through me, my empty lies
It took one smile to seize my eyes
My body is free but my minds a chain
Tied to a dream till I see her again
Taking chances and stealing glances
She saw through me, my empty lies
It took one smile to seize my eyes
My body's free but my minds a chain
Tied to a dream till I see her again

Far from eyes and the light of the sun
To hurt a soul you don't need a gun
Feeling the rush, tasting the thrill
Looking for an emotion that's harder to kill
Don't need a reason, it's all in the mind
Look for a motive, just ask the blind
Can't hide the truth from her x-ray eyes
Hunting for gold between her thighs
I'm holding her down but I'm on the rack
Her sighs in my ears
Her claws in my back
We like what we do
We know what we feel
We live with our scars
They're all that is real
