

Secret Vows

Yanni

The way the moon
Bends down to light the sea
And catches hold
Of mountains strong
They stand beside me and all that I am
They have written in my soul
I've made a promise to never lose sight
Of the dream that leads me home
And this much I know

Time like a river
Sends me away
But here on these shores
My heart remains
From these shores I came

A tender wind that reaches through the years
And sings me on
Through joy and pain
It breathes within me and all that I am
It has written in my soul
I've made a promise
To never lose sight
Of the dream that leads me home
And this much I know
And this much I know
