Don't get me wrong, I've made mistakes
But you're too blind to see the hand that's right in front of y our face
And through all these years the time was wasting away
'Cause I'm so naive that I still believe
I will regret this, it's just a matter of time but I won't forg et this

(Oooh, Oooh)
You're reciting all the words you borrowed
(Oooh, Oooh)
You're reciting all the words you swallowed

So long, so long, so long
I don't need you, I don't need you
So long, so long, so long
I don't need you, I don't need you
Another day that you're away
Another night without its dreams
So long, so long, so long
My eyes won't let me see

And now we're falling apart
We're falling apart

You're reciting all the words you borrowed
You're reciting all the words you swallowed

So long, so long, so long
I don't need you, I don't need you
So long, so long, so long
I don't need you, I don't need you
Another day that you're away
Another night without its dreams
So long, so long, so long
My eyes won't let me see

That you made me who I am
Another silent night, where I find I can't turn off the lights
I will regret this
(Another silent night)
But I won't forget this
(Another silent night)
I will regret this
(Another silent night)
But I won't forget it
