

Stockholm Sinner

Yashin

My only mistake was fighting for someone that never fought for me
I can see through all your bullshit
I remember when we lost it
And now it's time baby to tell the story

Spotlight on you
That's all you wanted baby
It's what I gave you
You killed that girl but kept her face

You never worked for anything
My girl is gone
What's left?
A leech?
It's you

Calling out, calling out, calling out
This imposter
Pretty face, you want her
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry babe

Calling out, calling out, calling out
This imposter
Lipstick shows your colours
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry babe

And after everything I did for you
After everything I gave
You couldn't even say your last words
You just typed them out
And put them on a screen

Don't you think that in another life
You can come to me
And it will be alright

You never worked for anything
My girl is gone
What's left?
A leech?
It's you

Calling out, calling out, calling out
This imposter
Pretty face, you want her
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry babe

Calling out, calling out, calling out
This imposter
Lipstick shows your colours
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry bitch

(Tragedy, tragedy)

There's a stranger in front of me
(Tragedy, tragedy)
Whoa
(Tragedy, tragedy)
An imposter in front of me
(Tragedy, tragedy)
Whoa

Calling out, calling out, calling out
This imposter
Pretty face, you want her
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry babe

This imposter
Lipstick shows your colours
Did you think that I would stay?
You're fame hungry bitch

Calling out, calling out, calling out
You're fame hungry bitch
Calling out, calling out, calling out
You're fame hungry bitch
