Anyone

Fate took a freeway to my room Said to much while he stayed And left too soon. Bright on an evening sea, Washed in with the tide Deep in each other's dreams Where all but dreams had died.

Wretched in your thoughts Gentle hate within the love you brought. Words fade like flowers shadowed There beneath your wall Wind cries from every angle Dead leaves left to wait for fall.

And in my darkest hour When I can find no light My goals are out of sight And nothing warms the night. I close my eyes And with such sweet surprise I can be anywhere I can be anyone.
