

Haven't heard from you in days
I'm spreading thin what I've got saved
And I've come down from your highest times
Now what the hell am I supposed to say
Whoa, I know it feels like I've let you down,
But I'm still around (still around)

If you can find a way to reach me
Take your time I could be underneath you
Looking up to see you
From where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

Busy writing thoughts tonight
A message sent with no reply
You used to hang on my every word
Now they never come out right
Whoa, I know it feels like I let you down
But I'm still around (still around)

If you can find a way to reach me
Take your time I could be underneath you
Looking up to see you
From where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

You are invisible in this (you are invisible in this)
Too caught in what you missed (caught up in what you missed)
So spend what I gave I'll give you more
You are invisible in this

If you can find a way to reach me
Take your time I could be underneath you
Looking up to see you
From where we used to hide
From where we used to hide

If you can find a way to reach me
Take your time I could be underneath you
Looking up to see you
From where we used to hide
From where we used to hide
