Yendri

2 billion people in the city of light 8 miles high, steel and stone
It's shining so sweet I'm somewhere there alone

What I get is what I see is what I think that I should be my virtual reality
really means a lot to me

Never wake me up
don't break my dreams

I'm walking on a path of energy the air is just a field of electricity my pain is over now, can you see without a body my soul is free
