Where will you be when you're not here? How many lives in this earth time? You are my soul and this you are Two souls intertwined, that's what we are

We can, we walk, hand in hand all the life Be the one, everything to me You, I am dreaming We have lived and known before I feel it

Where will you lie?

When will I know when you are gone?
Where I be, and I will miss you?
We are this love in this life
Two should intertwined like once before

See this meeting, hand in hand every life Be the one, everything to me You are my feeling

No need to fear this love of life We are the truth of every earth life No need to fear this life at all We are the sun and everlasting life

Where will you be hearing this song? How many lives in this earth time? You are my soul and this you are You are my soul and this you are

Where will you lie?
