Yo La Tengo

On the verge of somewhere he wanted to be Thought he'd take a chance, thought he'd take a dive He wandered away, wandered away from his nothing life He wandered away, wandered away from his nothing life Feeling sad and laughed at, misunderstood Just how dry have I become He wandered away, wandered away from his nothing life He wandered away, wandered away from his nothing life Passed the edge of nowhere he ever thought he'd be He pressed down, and then he took the bait. He wandered away, wandered away from his nothing life, his noth ing life
