

I want, I want,
I can't seem to get,
What I want,
Ought to find a peace of my mind,
That I need,
I need,
To fulfill my greed,
And I want to have it all until I succeed,

I want, I want,
It's never enough,
I dream all the big dreams,
Of all the right stuff,
That I need,
I need,
As much as I must,
'Cause when the end comes,
From dust to dust we go.

Like fading scars under the sky,
You got to get to live before you die,
Before you die.

Oh today sees a dawn of a new daylight,
I know the last chance,
Put the loud to light,
But if we've got no control of the skin that we're living in,
Then tell me why I can't have another hit of that adrenaline,
Can I have another hit of that adrenaline?

Like fading scars under the sky,
You got to get to live before you die,
Know that you just take your rest,
Look around,
Let your feet touch the ground, go!
What if we're never coming down, now?
What if we're never coming down?

No price I wouldn't pay,
To take a breath away,
No price I wouldn't pay,
To take a breath away,
One more time,
One more.

Can I have another hit,
I wanna have another,
Can I have another hit,
I wanna have another,
Why can't I have another hit,
I wanna have another!

Like fading scars under the sky,
You got to get to live before you die,
Know that you just take your rest,
Look around,
Let your feet touch the ground, go!

What if we're never coming down, now?
What if we're never coming down?

Like fading scars under the sky,
You got to get to live before you die,
Know that you just take your rest,
Look around,
Let your feet touch the ground, go!
What if we're never coming down, now?
What if we're never coming down,
What if we're never coming down,
What if we're never gonna come down now.
