

She's So Fine

You Am I

I woke up bright and early this morning, my little girl's not inside.

I've been searching everywhere, morning, noon and daylight, yeah.

Cos she's so fine, she's so fine, she's so fine.

She's so fine you know I wish she were mine.

I got something to tell her, maybe she'll listen maybe not.

I never loved another woman before cos all my love she's got.

Cos she's so fine, she's so fine, she's so fine.

She's so fine you know I wish she were mine.

One, two, three, six.

Cos she's so fine, she's so fine, she's so fine.

She's so fine you know I wish she were mine and that's all.
