Young Rising Sons

If you been just staring at the sunrise above this hollow town
been chasing empty memories
the kind that's keeping you down.
Can't seem to find your strife
just trying to live your life.
Been feeling suffocated
searching for vindication.
This sense of indecision ain't what we had in mind
the dream that I envisioned
I am still hoping to find.
You ain't done nothing wrong
but we ain't done nothing right.
I know that's somethings missing
but the world will keep on.

TURNING TURNING
you gotta keep that fire
BURNING BURNING
I know you think your in a
HURRY
there's no need to WORRY
cause I can feel it
our luck is turning around

Chasing these empty verses some rows have crooked signs.
We're loosing all this daylight
but soon the moon's gonna rise
These final puzzle peices
we tried but they're too tight
but if we ease the pressure
I bet they'll fit just right sometimes it takes some patience sometimes it works first try but I know that this is worth it cause this dreams too strong to die

I ain't done nothing wrong but we done nothing right one day we'll find what's missing
but the world will keep on

you gotta keep the fire
our luck is turning around (3x)

I been in I been out
I been low beaten down
I been lost now I'm found
this fires burning us

Still staring at the sunrise missing that hollow town feeling those empty memories
but nothings holding me down
I hope you find your strife just go and live your life
I'm feeling vindicated
the world will keep on

TURNIN TURNIN
You better keep that fire
BURNING BURNING
I know you think you're in a
cause I can feel it
our luck is turning around
TURNIN TURNIN
our luck is turning around
TURNIN TURNIN
our luck is turning around

I been in I been out
