

All That Was Missing

YOURCODENAMEIS:MILO

Small morning after the big last night
Recall events and arguments, mind is in flight
It looks as though I've let you go and I'm to blame
I'll start over again, start over again
And put up my walls
And put up my walls
All that was missing
Is here to stay
To stay until the end
To stay until the end
It should've been easy
It should've been easy
When we were winning
All we were singing was:

You're the greatest king of all the world
Don't give up now
You're the greatest king of all the world
Don't give up now
All that was missing
Is here to stay
To stay until the end
To stay until the end
Is here to stay
To stay until the end
To stay until the end
It should've been easy
It should've been easy
When we were winning
Nothing else mattered
I wish that I could stop erase and start it all again.
