lives that you never had you say that we should not complain he ar it over and over again but you don't seem to realize how unc ertain you've made our lives criticize everything we do chastis e what you don't approve your life is lies we despise you can't even look me in the eyes to you our lives are so unwise you say that you hear everything but it's obvious you're not listening
