

Amy, go put your shoes on
Oh, what's taking you so long
I've been waiting out here
I've got to be back home at five

Riding on our bicycles
You and me against the world
You hated this neighborhood
Couldn't wait 'til you grow up

Show me how you put on makeup
Talking to the boys in school
You just want wanna be a woman
I just wanna be like you

I know that you and I
We went on with our lives
But if you look up to the sky, once in a while
You should come back to me

Amy you grew up too fast
I think I could understand
There's nothing out here for you
Not even me, I know that too

You had all the biggest dreams
Too out of reach for me
Out there, you're doing your thing
Just don't forget about me

Show me how you put on makeup
Talking to the boys in school
You just want wanna be a woman
I just wanna be like you

I know that you and I
We went on with our lives
But if you look up to the sky, once in a while
You should come back to me

I guess
It's something you
Always knew about

Some things don't last forever
