

Pink Youth

Yuna

A little more lipstick baby, yeah
A little more knowledge baby, yeah
Now give it to him

They don't know what's going on in my mind
They just don't want me to drive it tonight
They don't know what it means to be a girl
What it means to be on enemy shores

They ain't ready for this pink youth
We come up to fight
Like diamonds shining in the sky
Girls like you and I

Ooo, if ya feelin' it get down
You shouldn't be worryin' 'bout who to impress now
Everything's a headache and it's leaving you stressed out
You're real low feeling like your life is a mess now
I'm probably the reason you ain't living for yourself
We found love in a place that don't sell it
With no help
Give me space
No credit, I don't need it
Life goes on and oh well my soul reflects gold
Don't try to let go
I give it easy to you living intense flow
This is real shit ain't nothing to mess with I'm just tryna give you something here to connect with
And that's my duty
This is not to suit me
Everyday's a scene and my life's a movie
I came to be the best version of me
So everybody could see who I am really and truly

Don't worry if I'm losing my sleep
Awake and I don't wanna miss a thing, yeah
They don't know what it means to be a girl
To live in a dangerous world

They ain't ready for this pink youth
We come up to fight
Like diamonds shining in the sky
Girls like you and I

Don't you know that you and I
Can take it higher
You know that they ain't ready
Know that they ain't ready for us

And if you're gonna say I'm goin' nowhere
Just gimme a second and I'll find my way to make sure I get there
'Cause I'm not playin' safe
And I don't think you have a clue
What I can do

A little more lipstick baby, yeah
A little more knowledge baby, yeah

Now give it to him

They ain't ready for this pink youth
We come up to fight
Like diamonds shining in the sky
Girls like you and I
