

On This Train

Zac Brown Band

I'm on this train, I can't slow down, and the Brakes are gone and I'm running out
Of reasons to even try to stop me now.
And it seems to me no matter where I turn
I fall off these tracks and I get burned.
But someday, I'm gonna finally make it home.

But these wheels keep on taking me the long way.
And I just don't know when they'll finally stop.
But I know if they keep taking me the long way, the wrong way
I'm falling off, ain't never getting up.

It's different through another's eyes
To see the pain she feels inside.
With her pretty smile, it's gonna fool you every time.

I got my foot on the gas, full steam ahead, and I
Can't forget what my daddy said, he said
Happiness is found inside your heart.

But these wheels keep on taking me the long way,
And I just don't know when they'll finally stop.
But I know if they keep taking me the long way, the wrong way.
I'm falling off, ain't never getting up.

But these wheels keep on taking me the long way,
And I just don't know when they'll finally stop
But I know if they keep taking me the long way, the wrong way.
I'm falling off, ain't never getting up.

Got my foot on the gas, full steam ahead, and I
Can't forget what my daddy said, he said
Happiness is found inside your heart.
And someday, I hope you'll finally be home.
