

Too Numb to Cry

Zakk Wylde

I see you across the room
Search for some happiness
Ain't anytime soon
Turmoil has turned you inside
Sift through your pages of miracles
You wish to find

When you're too numb to cry
And you're just left wonderin' why?
When you're too numb to cry
And you're just left wonderin' why?

To change in a blink of an eye
If you could, you surely would
Wave yourself goodbye
I try and I try and I try
Got a hold on your sufferin'
Peace in which you don't wish to buy

When you're too numb to cry
And you're just left wonderin' why?
When you're too numb to cry
And you're just left wonderin' why?
Why, why, why?
