

Still In My Blood

Zara Larsson

If I found myself another
If I found a way
To restart and to forget you
And to hide away

I could run for my life
I could go under ground
but you'll still be inside

I could shout out the world
I could move from this town
But you're still in my blood

There are ways to keep away from
Things that remind me of you
There may be places I could go to
To keep my mind, to keep my mind off you

I could run for my life
I could go under ground
But you'll still be inside

I could shoutout the world
I could move from this town
But you still in my blood

When I let it all go, and we finding a way through
And I find someone new
We will feel remain

And the memories stay
When you're still in my
When you're still in my
When you're still in my blood

I could run for my life
I could go under ground
But you'll still be inside
I could shout out the world
I could move from this town
But you're still in my blood

Yeah you're still in my blood