

We rust

Zavod

We don't smile
We don't cry
We rust
Like machines standing out in the rain
That just wont seem to stop
Time wont wait for us

Cause it's slipping away
Like the blood in our hearts and veins
Coagulates and our bodies drains
Under a radioactive sun we rust in...

This world,
So vain
So broken and full of pain
So cold,
So grey,
So damaged but of course we'll stay

We don't live
We don't die
We rust
And here comes the rain again
Corrosion waits for us

Time is slipping away
Like the blood in our hearts and veins
Coagulates and our bodies drains
We don't smile, we don't cry
Corroded but still alive. We rust in...

This World
Where our presence are fading away
So vain
So changed yet still the same
So cold
So grey
So damaged but of course we'll stay...

Under a radioactive sun
Where the fountain of youth is dry

We rust
