

All That

Zayn

When I woke up this mornin'
The sun had just dawned in
My bed or your bed?
Was the first or the last time
I don't care, it feels right
I'm not, not stoppin' all night

Things fall apart and in a part you feel distant
Reactions are instant if emotions are constant
Let's say for instance that you had a conscience
Would you take the time then to weigh out the options

All that, all that
You can give me all that
All that, all that
All that, all that
You can give me all that
All that, all that

Stay here in the mornin'
You can take it all back
All back, all back
Lay here if you want to
You can give me all that
All that, all that

Never crossed my mind
Have I crossed the lines?
Or is there more to find, more to find
I think inside I'm mortalised
Mortalised, more to life

Comin' from both sides
An attack of the mind
Like Optimus Prime in his prime
Kick it, don't skip it, to the finish line
This minute's mine

All that, all that
You can give me all that
All that, all that
(You can give me all that)
All that, all that
You can give me all that
All that, all that

Stay here in the mornin'
You can take it all back
All back, all back
Lay here if you want to
You can give me all that
All that, all that

[Instrumental]

All that, all that
You can give me all that

All that, all that
(You can give me all that)
All that, all that
You can give me all that
All that, all that

Stay here in the mornin'
You can take it all back
All back, all back
Lay here if you want to
You can give me all that
All that, all that
