

Long Dark Night

Zombie Ghost Train

Got to thinking about tomorrow
Will it come, will it come
I'm a lonely driver on this train
A man without a name, without a name
But I know that time will fly
And I know it'll be alright
But for now in this sorrow, its just one long dark night
I'm a broken lightbulb in a storm
I'm too tired to replace
The monster with the vanished face
A book without a page
But I know that time will fly
And I know it'll be alright
But for now in this sorrow its just one long dark night
Shadows bouncing from the walls
A cold flame in an empty room
Your gentle smile and loving eyes
Used to take away my gloom
But I know that time will fly
And I know it'll be alright
But for now in this sorrow its just one long dark night
And I know that time will fly
And I know it'll be alright
But for now in this sorrow it's just one long dark night
