

Live In My Head

Zoot Woman

I can't say your name
I can't play the game
I can't mess around
And end up down again
Cause you give the perfect surprise
And it's hard to let go of the look in your eyes

I can't fake or hide
I can't believe the lies
The past I can't face
When your on my case again

And I wanted to show so much more
But I know it will fall if we open the door

All the things that you said
Still live in my head
All the places that we went
Were gonna go again
Now all that remains is the love in my vein
You still
live in my head

Control is not my direction or design
Here with my confession and unlearnt lesson
I've been waiting for you all the time
Don't you know what I'm feeling inside
