

Monday Afternoon

Zornik

If I look back into time
I guess I must have been a fool
But all I ever did was never stop the need in you?
And I love all of you
But you just crossed the line
And now your energy is mine
And I care about myself?

If I look back into time
I guess I must have been a fool
But all I ever did was never stop believing you?
And I love all of you
But you just crossed the line
And now your energy is mine
And I care about
And I love all of you
We'll never know the truth

And I care about
And I love all of you
We'll never know the truth
