

It's Kind

Zuzana Smatanová

It's kind when I want still something from you something about
your spending day
It's kind to get an answer from you if you know the things their origin name...

It's kind to bring some flowers for a dead man who's lying in his grave but if only he can't smell their fragrance but it's kind to pretend that we want to care

It's kind, it's fine too much to mention it to care about it It's kind, it's fine, but it's lie too much if you hate it just say that!

It's kind when you read from my hand something stupid from lines on the palm
It's kind to promise me land - yes you said but it's too large
- eyed to believe that balm!

It's kind when you tell me you love me but I hate this word - you disgusted it to me It's kind you looking for something good in yourself although you are known like "world adversary"!

It's kind, it's fine too much to mention it to care about it It's kind, it's fine, but it's lie too much if you hate it just
say that!

It's kind when I want still something from you something about
your spending day
It's kind to get an answer from you if you know the things their origin name...
