

Penny Has Two Days

Zuzana Smatanová

Penny has two last days in her life
she needs someone near by her side Maybe it won't be so bad she was the funniest woman we've ever met I wonder if she remembers my name Without her it will never be the same

Penny has two last days in her life
I've never met a much better husband's wife
Do we know how many days we have left?
Do we have time to start again?
I wonder if someone knows who I am So I promise you I'll always be the same

Penny has two last days in her life
Leaving them it means some new start They wish that she could answer she would stay
I wish that it always was the same ...

She'll never see the sunshine again Growing up of her children and the husband's care
How can we be hiding the pain and smile through the grief

Penny has two last days in her life
she needs someone near by her side
The world without her will be so sad she was the funniest woman we've ever met ...
