

Sorry To My Brother

Zuzana Smatanová

I've never been beaten
my body has never suffered
I've never been beaten
for every stupid word that I've ever said

Scoring, I've just have been scoring for noise which every morning, was dilate through the streets and through the bus Ignoring, I was always ignoring the mess my room is boring, in fact is the only place that I possess...

I've never been beaten, my head has never suffered I've never been condemn for every failure even if I didn't nothing

Smiling, I used to smiling at jokes they made me crying, but if only they weren't funny but silly anymore...
Trying, I've always been trying to impress endeavor was useless, that's why I was taken for a child who was crying for being denied...

My only idea was always to pack my suitcase I know that always was looked after about me - sorry I've never been beaten so I hope that it'll stay like this it will be sorry to my brother, brother whom i missed...

I've never been beaten
my brother got trashing for me but I respect him, for every slap by hand which he has stood - and only because of me...
Getting, I've always been getting more but now I'm pity, that he was consider like an unrewarded for...
I've never been beaten
my body has never suffered
I've never been beaten
for every stupid word that I've ever said...
